"I look forward to hunting at Elk Glade in future years, and think that all of the guys in our hunting party feel the same."

memories are made here

Visit Elk Glade for your next hunting adventure.

We are fortunate to live and work in this beautiful place — operating in the East Beaver Valley since 1982. Thank you for your patronage, which enables us to make a portion of our living in this exceptional environment, while preserving the land and the wildlife for future generations.

The Colorado Springs Gazette noted that the canyon system below our ranch — to which we have the only access by road — is “...the largest canyon system without roads from Wyoming to New Mexico.” The Sierra Club figures that the area of about 70,000 acres of BLM, USFS, state and private lands (of which we are among the largest owners), is the most pristine land along the Colorado Front Range.

Make memories — and get a glimpse of history — in the East Beaver Valley.

Our valley is a place of homestead ruins from operations abandoned more than 140 years ago and of century-old working mines.

At the main lodge are the root cellar, blacksmith shop, slaughterhouse and barn, all having survived more than 100 years. There are remnants of liquor stills from the 1920s and rumor of lost treasure.

Our streams flow year-round and often provide wonderful opportunity for an hour or two of fly fishing. As with our game, the pressure is light so the fish aren't very wary, and with a one- or two-weight rod, there is a lot of fun to be had hooking brook, rainbow and cutthroat trout. (A Colorado fishing license is required.)

Plus, our unique location allows you to enjoy the outdoor experience without excessive highway travel time. Those arriving at the Colorado Springs Airport can often be “boots on and rifle in hand” within 90 minutes of landing.

We look forward to making your Elk Glade and East Beaver Valley experience all that it can be, and we hope to see you for many subsequent years.

We're exceptionally proud of the number of repeat guests we see year after year — many who return with friends, family and children. We work hard to create and preserve an environment that fosters lifelong friendships, family bonding and memories.

We'll offer you an outstanding, unique experience.

We're proud of our success rates, which are generally 30% for archery hunts and 40% for rifle hunts. Both of these numbers are roughly double the state of Colorado average. While we can't guarantee your success, we work diligently who don't seek the rigorous hikes and climbing that many hunts require. We also have challenging productive remote acreage for those who want to pick up the trail and stalk that prized bull or buck.

to give you an experience you'll treasure for a lifetime. The Johnson and Hammond families make every effort to assure your comfort in our rustic, but nicely restored, 105-year-old main lodge. This ranch house provides comforts not found in tents or typical drop camps.

We sleep comfortably and enjoy warm showers, indoor facilities, good food and drinks, an occasional cigar and, most importantly, unparalleled camaraderie with fellow outdoor enthusiasts.

We cater to experienced hunters, and we are also proud of our ability to introduce adventure-oriented people to the thrill and magnificence of big game hunting. Our guides are patient, and excellent in assisting seasoned professionals or teaching those new to the sport.

Our vast, privately held and leased terrain allow us to provide varied hunting experiences. We have many opportunities for people

We also provide, at no additional charge, Jeeps, Polaris' ATVs and horses.

Many of our guests enjoy field dressing and even processing their game in our slaughterhouse, which is a remnant of the cattle raising days in the valley. Others rely upon the expertise of our guides to instruct or simply perform these tasks for them. We can also provide full-service processing, taxidermy and shipping to your home or office.

"The tent camp was a great addition to my trip. Very comfortable and set up nice. I could have stayed the whole week there."

"The Elk Glade hunt was everything I wanted - your property was beautiful and we had great encounters with many nice bulls. I enjoyed learning about the history of the property, too." Father and Son
